1 About the Institute

The Kunsthistorisches Institut in Florenz – Max-Planck-Institut, founded in 1897, has been an institute of the Max Planck Society since 2002. Its research focuses on the histories of art and architecture in a transcultural perspective over a wide chronological and geographical range. A prime concern is to combine historical research with a critical engagement in current debates and challenges, for example urbanism, ecology, aesthetics, heritage, migration and diversity, the future of museums, media and material cultures and the digital transformation, among others. The institute is particularly committed to supporting young scholars, while its renowned library and Photothek are open to the international community of researchers.

2 General Information & Guidelines

- A valid user ID card is required to access the Library and Photo Library. Applications for a user ID card can be obtained via e-mail.
- A user ID card is for the exclusive use of the individual to whom it was issued.
- Every user must hand in their user ID card at the reception for the duration of their stay at the Institute.
- Coats, bags, etc. must be left in the cloakroom. The Institute does not assume liability for any loss of or damage to valuables.
- Before leaving the Institute, any study materials brought into the building must be presented unsolicited to staff at the reception. Private books must also be shown when entering the Institute. Our staff is authorized to carry out inspections.
- The Library and Photo Library are open-stack, for in-house consultation only.
- Books, photographs, and catalogues must be treated with care. It is forbidden to make notes or marks in books or manuscripts, as well as to correct errors, to bend or fold sheets or plates, to trace maps or plans, or to insert bookmarks. It is strictly forbidden to use books or photographs as writing supports.
- Books with uncut pages may only be opened by library staff.
- Please report to our staff any new or existing damage to books or photographs.
- Please keep noise to a minimum and show consideration for other readers. Smoking, eating, and drinking are not permitted in the Institute, as well as the use of mobile phones.
- Laptops, tablets, etc. may only be taken into the Institute's rooms if removed from their bag or case. They can be used in all rooms in the Library and Photo Library.
- Eduroam is available at the KHI. If you do not have a corresponding account, please ask the reception for a WiFi ticket.
- Visitors bringing their own devices may use the outlets found at most work spaces. It is forbidden to remove cables from occupied outlets.

By applying for a user ID card, each user agrees to comply to the guidelines stated above and to follow the instructions of the Institute's staff. The user ID card may be revoked in the case of violations. The Directors reserve the right to inform other libraries and institutions of the exclusion of a user and the reasons behind it, should the need arise.

User ID card

Access to the Kunsthistorisches Institut in Florenz is only possible with a valid user ID card. As a general rule, it is necessary to have completed a doctorate in order to be eligible for a user ID card. Graduate students (specialist or master's degree) are only granted access in exceptional cases.

Application:

User ID Cards may be obtained via e-mail. Please send your application including the completed application form and safety form to tessere@khi.fi.it, along with the following documents: Letter of recommendation, Abstract of the research project, Proof of identity (passport, government issued ID, etc.), Passport-sized photo (digital copy or passport-sized photo when collecting the ID card).

Please note that it is mandatory to participate in a brief introduction into the use of the library before consulting the library for the first time (on Zoom or in-person). For further information, please contact tessere@khi.fi.it.

Using eduroam

eduroam is a secure wireless connection available to all members of the Kunsthistorisches Institut in Florenz, as well as external users of the worldwide eduroam network, by using the credentials of their home institution.

Please use the eduroam Configuration Assistant Tool (CAT) [<https://cat.eduroam.org/>] to set up the connection on your device. This program automatically configures all required settings for different operating systems (Windows, macOS, Linux, iOS and Android).

Online Catalogue Kubikat

The OPAC Kubikat contains the complete holdings of the Library. It can be consulted by preset search fields or, for many monographs, essays, and reviews, by keyword.

Library Guidelines & Information

- Manuals, periodicals, bibliographies (MAN, A, B and BIBL) and new acquisitions (displayed in G213) must be put back on the shelves after use by Library users themselves. All other books must be returned to the returns-trolley in the rooms from which they were taken.
- A maximum of three books/periodicals may be consulted at any one time. Users may keep a maximum of three books at their desk for extended consultation. These books need to be registered at the self-checkout stations located throughout the Library. Please print out the receipt and leave it with each book. Manuals, periodicals, bibliographies and new acquisitions may not be reserved. Please note that at the end of every month all checked-out books will be cleared from the desks and re-shelved.

- Volumes identified in the online catalogue as RARO are held in a separate repository. They must be requested in advance and are distributed only at 11 am and 3 pm. Order forms can be found in Reading Room G218 / J and the Library helpdesk. A maximum of three titles can be ordered at one time. To collect their books, users must present their order form at the Library helpdesk. In order to protect the Library's valuable holdings of rare books, special measures must be observed when handling RARO volumes. These measures are set out in the Rare Books Terms of Use. After consultation, rare books must be returned to the reception by 7pm.
- A microfiche and microfilm reader/printer is located in room G507 (Via Giuseppe Giusti 49, second floor). It can be used exclusively under the guidance of Library staff.
- CD-ROMs can be requested at the reception and may be played on the Library user's own computer, at their own risk and responsibility.
- Scans may only be made for personal use. Public dissemination of these reproductions and their commercial use are forbidden. The legal provisions regarding the protection of copyright must be complied with when making reproductions of any kind. No reproductions may be made of books, periodicals or large-format volumes published more than 100 years ago. Scanners are located in Via Giuseppe Giusti 44 (on the ground floor and 2nd floor) and in Via Gustavo Modena 13 (on the ground floor, third floor, and in the basement).

Library Helpdesk

The Library helpdesk, located in Via Giuseppe Giusti 44, Room G 217 / H on the 1st floor, is staffed every day from 10.30am–12.30pm and 2–4pm for all questions relating to using the Library. Outside these hours, in urgent cases, Library staff can be consulted in their offices. Introductions to the use of the Library take place every Wednesday at 12:00 pm (meeting point: helpdesk).

4 The Photothek

The Photothek's holdings of standard-format photographs are freely accessible in open shelves and are organized into the categories of Architecture, Sculpture, Painting and Applied Arts. Photographs of Antique art (architecture, sculpture, painting and mosaic) form their own section.

The Architecture section is divided into epochs and, within these, into regions and locations. It also includes the sub-divisions Urbanism, Architectural Drawings, Landscape Architecture, Museology and Stage Design, as well as Non-Italian Architecture.

The Painting and Sculpture sections are likewise organized into epochs. Within each epoch, the works of known artists are arranged in alphabetical order of artist name, followed by anonymous works arranged according to their current location. Drawings, prints and miniatures are integrated into these sections on the basis of what they show. The Painting section also includes the sub-division Portraits and Self-portraits in the Uffizi.

The Applied Arts section is organized by material and object type, and within each respective category by epoch.

The Photothek's holdings also include large-format photographs. For conservation reasons special conditions apply to the consultation of these photographs. The same restrictions apply to the approx. 1,000 unbound prints housed in the collection.

The building in Via Gustavo Modena 13 also houses the Library's Section Ya with holdings on the History and Theory of Photography.

Catalogues for Holdings Dated 1897–1993

Holdings acquired up to 1993 in the sections Painting, Sculpture, Architecture, Drawings and Applied Arts are catalogued in two card indices: a Topographical card index (organized alphabetically by place) and an Artists' card index (organized alphabetically by artist name).

Prints are likewise catalogued in a card index and are organized by inventors and engravers (alphabetically by name).

It is also possible to search for images under thematic headings via the Iconographic card index, in which photographs from all sections of the Photo Library are systematically catalogued in terms of subject represented.

Online Catalogue

The online catalogue contains full entries for all photographs acquired since 1993, along with thematically related older images, and is available online via the Bildindex der Kunst und Architektur (<http://www.bildindex.de>). This German-language pictorial index of art and architecture provides access not only to the KHI catalogue but also to the collections of many German museums and to important photographic libraries dedicated to the history of art (e.g. the Bibliotheca Hertziana, Max Planck Institute for Art History in Rome and the Zentralinstitut für Kunstgeschichte in Munich), and to the databases of various university art-history departments.

Digital Photo Library

The Digital Photo Library (<http://photothek.khi.fi.it>) provides free access to ca. 50.000 digitalized negatives and photographs to which the KHI owns the copyright.

Photo Library Guidelines & Information

- Photographs may only be consulted in the rooms of the Photothek.
- Users are can take photographs out of boxes and folders themselves. With the exception for large-format photographs, which may only be consulted in the presence of Photothek staff.
- After consultation, users must place photographs back inside their respective folders and corresponding boxes.
- The boxes must be returned to their place after use.
- Users are requested not to make changes to attributions, locations etc. but to inform the Photothek staff should any details need updating.
- Users can order copies of photographs for study purposes (photocopies or scans on the user's own USB key). A maximum of 25 copies are permitted per order.
- For academic publications, high-resolution digital images under KHI copyright can be ordered from the Digital Photo Library (E-Mail: fototeca@khi.fi.it).
- For study purposes, users are permitted to take pictures with their own camera of photographs complete with their mounts, using the copy stand provided for this purpose. Please sign the accompanying declaration.

- Please note that photographs not carrying the KHI copyright stamp on their mount may be subject to the copyright of another archive or another person.

5 Publications

As a general rule, authorization to reproduce materials from the Library and the Photo Library for study purposes does not include permission to publish them. In the event of publication, it is the responsibility of the author to comply with all copyright legislation. Manuscripts, documents, photographs etc. from bequests held at the Kunsthistorisches Institut in Florenz may be published only with the express permission of the Managing Director. The Institute must be given a copy or offprint of every such publication.

The Library of the Kunsthistorisches Institut in Florenz is always grateful to receive a copy of publications prepared on the basis of research conducted at the Institute. The Photo Library is likewise delighted to accept photographic material that is no longer required.

6 Safety Instructions

Use of Ladders and Steps

General Safety Measures

- Ladders and steps should be used correctly and with due caution at all times.
- Footwear and clothing must be appropriate.
- If no ladders or steps are available, no other aids may be used.
