

Contents

Introduction	1
1 The Byzantine-Arabic Chronicle of 741 and the Mozarabic Chronicle of 754	12
2 Eulogius of Córdoba, The Memorial of the Saints and The Book in Defense of the Martyrs	15
3 John of Seville, Letter to Paulus Albarus	29
4 Paulus Albarus, The Luminous Guide	31
5 Pascasius Radbertus, Commentary on the Gospel of Matthew	49
6 Anastasius the Librarian, History of the Church	52
7 The Genealogy of the Saracens	55
8 Landulphus Sagax, Roman History	57
9 Rodulphus Glaber, Histories	60
10 Petrus Alfonsi, Dialogues against the Jews	63
11 Hugh of Fleury, History of the Church	71
12 Hugh of Flavigny, Chronicle	74
13 Sigebert of Gembloux, Chronicles	76
14 Frutolf of Michelsberg and Ekkehard of Aura, Universal Chronicle	78
15 William of Malmesbury, Collection of Historical Texts and Deeds of the English Kings	80
16 Corpus Cluniacense	83
1. Peter the Venerable, The Sum of all the Heresies and Diabolical Sect of the Saracens	84
2. The Tales of the Saracens	89
a. Prologue	89
b. The Mistake-Laden and Ridiculous Chronicle of the Saracens	91
c. The Book of Muḥammad's Genealogy and his Nurturing	99
d. The Doctrine of Muḥammad	116
3. The Law of the Saracens	119
4. The Letter of the Saracen and the Response of the Christian	120

17 Peter of Poitiers, Chapter Headings for a Treatise against the Saracens	141
18 Peter the Venerable, Against the Sect of the Saracens	146
19 Richard of Cluny, Chronicle	165
20 Otto of Freising, Chronicles or History of the Two Cities . .	168
21 William of Tyre, History of the Deeds Done Beyond the Sea	171
22 Godfrey of Viterbo, Pantheon	173
23 Ralph Niger, Chronicles	181
24 Gerald of Wales, On the Instruction of a Prince	184
25 Alanus of Lille, On the Catholic Faith, Book 4: Against the Pagans	187
26 Joachim of Fiore, Various works	189
27 Mark of Toledo, Prologue to his translation of the Qur'ān; Prologue to the De Unione Dei by Ibn Tūmart	198
28 Master Thietmar, The Way to the Holy Land	206
29 The Life of Muḥammad from the Manuscript of Uncastillo .	209
30 Oliver of Paderborn, The History of the Capture of Damiaata; Letters	215
31 James of Vitry, History of the East	220
32 Lucas of Tuy, Chronicle of the World	236
33 Rodrigo Jiménez de Rada, History of the Arabs	241
34 William of Auvergne, On the Faith and the Laws against the Gentiles	250
35 Roger of Wendover, Flowers of Histories	256
36 Matthew Paris, Major Chronicles	260
37 Ramon Martí, On the Sect of Muḥammad, or Fourfold Refutation; Explanation of the Apostolic Symbol; The Muzzle of the Jews	278
38 Thomas Aquinas, The Summa against Gentiles	307
39 Roger Bacon, Moral Philosophy	311
40 Vincent of Beauvais, The Mirror of History	316
41 Benedict of Alignan, The Treatise of Faith against Various Heresies	337
42 Martinus Polonus, Chronicle of the Supreme Pontiffs and Emperors, and on the Seven Ages of the World	341
43 Humbert of Romans, Minor Work in Three Parts	345
44 William of Tripoli, Notice on Muḥammad, On The State of the Saracens	349
45 The Book of Denuding or Exposing or the Discloser	365

46	Riccardo of Monte di Croce, Letters to the Triumphant Church; Against the Law of the Saracens; Book of the Pilgrimage	381
47	Francesco Pipino, The Capture of the Holy Land from the Year 1095 to the Year ca.1130	435
48	Ramon Llull, The Book of the Dispute between the Christian Ramon and the Saracen ‘Umar	437
49	Simon Fitzsimon, Travel from Ireland to the Holy Land	446
50	Bartholomew of Lucca, The New History of the Church	455
51	James of Verona, The Book of the Pilgrimage	459
52	Alfonso Buenhombre, The Disputation between Abutalib the Saracen and Samuel the Jew; The Letter of Samuel	467
53	Benvenuto of Imola, Commentary on the Divine Comedy . .	479
	 Bibliography	485
	Editions and translations	485
	Studies	492
	 Manuscripts	524
	 Index rerum	525
	 Index locorum	534
	Biblica	534
	Qur’ān (Alcoranus, Alkoran, Lex Sarracenorum)	537
	Auctores	539